

Impact of GST on Procurement Department

The Rajya Sabha has passed the GST Bill, paving the way for the most significant tax reform and probably the second-most significant economic reform since Independence. With the Bill's passage, the advent of the Goods and Services Tax (GST) is now only a matter of time.

GST is not just a tax reform, but it is a business reform and it will change the way businesses function.

Various business departments needs to be re-looked, re-engineered and re-modelled to ensure smooth transition into the GST regime.

Hence, we are conducting a half day session on "Impact of GST on Procurement Department" to understand the impact of GST on the purchase department and the actions to be taken to optimize the entire procurement cycle to best suit the needs of the GST.
